Additional Activities

Party People FAN Activity. A game of Open-ended Questions

- The group needs to form a circle and the manager needs to select a soft stuffy or ball to toss.
- One team starts by stating an open-ended FAN question. They gently toss a stuffed item to the next team, who has to respond with a different open-ended FAN question before tossing to a new team member.
- If an open-ended question is not asked or they repeat a question already asked, the team member is out and needs to step out of the circle.
- The game continues until there is only 1 person standing.

MOD

Managers need to monitor the type of questions being asked and referee. Put the soft item being tossed back in place on the sales floor.

This can be done on a micro scale during Rally Rounds. No tossing, but the MOD and the team member doing a quick question with a question.

Product Scavenger Hunt

- Managers, pre-select an item and do not share what that item is. Act as if you are a guest trying to describe an item and see which team can find the item being described first.
- Teams find the most unique gift idea for a white elephant gift. Describe why this is great!
- Teams find a cute and trending women's top. Describe why you love this product.
- Teams find a trending Executive Brand item that they love and explain why.

MOD

Any Product pulled needs to be put back into place. Use this time to explain the VMC and importance of General Recovery.
